FEAR COMMERCE RAIDING CAMPAIGN

Tangled Skein of Circumstances Perplexes Officials at Washington

GERMAN OFFICERS ESCAPE

Mysterious Movements of American Yachts in Gulf of Mexico Baffle Agents

AMERICAN YACHT DISAPPEARS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A tangled skein of circumstances is perplexing officials here, pointing either to the institution of a new commerce raiding campaign by Germans in the Carribean Sea or the beginning of a series of fillibustering expeditions against Mexico. The justice, navy and state departments have worked on the mystery several weeks without result. The departure of several sea going motor boats, the escape of German warrant officers interned at Norfolk and the mysterious movements of several American yachts in the Gulf of Mexico have baffled not only officials of the Washington government who are anxious to prevent violations of neutrality but also agents of the British government who fear a commerce raiding campaign against the tank steamers which carry oil from Mexican ports for the British navy.

Believe Circumstances Connected.

The circumstances, which officials believed are all connected in a general way, follow:

1. The sudden departure of six interned German warrant officers from Norfolk in the motor yacht Eclipse, provisioned for several days' voyage.

2. The arrival at Buena Ventura, Colombia, of an American ship "Academy" from San Francisco, heavily provisioned.

One of the owners of the Academy telegraphed the government here that the vessel had no instructions to go to Colombia. The captain of the vessel claimed that he put into the Colombian port for repairs. Some doubt exists as to the real identity of the vessel and officials have sent to the American consul at Callao the registry number of the Academy and have asked for a complete description.

Two Yachts Lying at Key West.

3. Two yachts—the Alameda and Ventura—have been lying at Key West for several weeks. Lewis Van Horn, of New York City, who owned them originally, is understood to have sold the Alameda to a General Pasquero. The Ventura was recently stolen, it is claimed from Key West by "Mexican pirates" and recovered by an American coast patrol.

4. An American sailing vessel called the Two Sisters went aground on an island off the coast of Louisiana recently, claiming to have come from Mexico for repairs. Her status is under investigation.

5. The American ship Zealandia left Pensacola, Fla., suddenly at night with a large stock of provisions on board for Tampico, Mexico, and with a number of Germans in her crew. The arrival of the vessel at Tampico has been reported, where an investigation will be made. An American flag painted on the side of the vessel, originally, had been painted out. It is claimed the vessel flew the German flag at sea, but this has been denied by the owners.

American Yacht Disappears.

An American yacht, Ethel, disappeared from Jacksonville, Fla., within the last few weeks and has not been found. Officials have two theories as to the meaning of this series of happenings. One is that wealthy Mexicans in the United States are financing filibustering expeditions that have some connection with the raids in the vicinity of Brownsville, Tex., and the other is that small boats putting out from the United States are being met at sea and armed with guns of medium calibre for raiding purposes. The latter theory originated when a British tank steamer arriving at a South American port reported that on her way from Tuxpam, Mexico, she had been fired upon at sea by a small boat. The belief exists in some quarters here that a base of operations has been established on an island near the coast of Haiti, where guns have been accumulated for use on small boats that are brought there from the United States.

Great Britain and France have maintained a patrol of cruisers in the Carribean and the seas are being scoured for suspicious craft.

CANAL SLIDE DELAYS RUSSIAN LOCOMOTIVES

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23—Several chartered steamers engaged in carrying locomotives, steel rails and other equipment to Russia will be delayed by the closing of the Panama Canal in reaching their destination, Vladivostok. They will have to take the longer route, through the Suez Canal. Among these ships are the Japanese liner Tenzan Maru, the British steamer St. Veronica and the Japanese steamer Senju Maru.

Large Suffrage Parade Is Held In New York City

Fours Hours and Twenty Minutes for Parade to Pass One Reviewing Stand

40,000 WOMEN IN LINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Fifth avenue for four hours today was given over to the largest woman's suffrage parade ever witnessed anywhere. It was the woman's appeal to place New York, at the election of Nov. 2 among the states which have given women the right to vote.

Participated in by women from every state in the country and from more than twenty foreign countries the parade extended from Washington square to Central park and although it began shortly after 3 o'clock it was long after dark when the last marchers had finished.

Suffrage leaders estimated that 40,000 women were in line. In addition there were 5,000 men, representing, the leaders said, only about half of the men who had signed pledges that they would participate.

There were thirty bands and it was said that 15,000 yellow banners. It took four hours and twenty minutes for the parade to pass one of the reviewing stands.

It was stated by Miss Alberta Hill, the grand marshal who led the marchers, riding on a horse draped in purple, white and green that, every department of business and professional life, from factories to colleges were represented and women prominent on the stage, in art and society took part as officials.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Dr. Mary Walker, Mrs. Herbert Carpenter, Mrs. Normain De R. Whithouse, Miss Rosalie Jones, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and Miss Fola LaFollette were among the scores of women who headed various sections.

STATES FATE OF MISS CAVELL HAS NO PARALLEL IN BRITISH RECORD

Sir John Simon Says Even in Cases of Clearly Proven Espionage England Has Meted Out to Women No Death Sentence.

London, Oct. 23.—Sir John A. Simon, British home secretary and former attorney general, in the course of an interview today declared that the fate of Edith Cavell, the English nurse executed by the German authorities at Brussels had and could have, no parallel in the records of Great Britain's treatment of persons accused of military offenses.

Even in cases of clearly proven espionage, Great Britain has according to the home secretary meted out to women no death sentence.

"No women," said he, "who has been tried for any military offense in this country has suffered the death penalty since the war began or has ever been sentenced to death. In this country a woman, whatever her nationality, is always tried by a civil court."

The secretary explained that evident differences existed in conditions in Belgium and in conditions in England and that in occupied territory like Belgium the administration of the law was expected to be slightly different.

SALOONKEEPERS ATTACKING CLOSING LAW MEET DEFEAT

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Saloonkeepers attacking the legality of the Sunday saloon closing order met defeat again today when Judge Windes in the circuit court after listening to long argument refused to issue a temporary injunction restraining the city authorities from enforcing the closing rule. A similar petition was denied last week by Judge Matchett. Counsel for fifty saloonkeepers presenting the petition for an injunction asked that at least saloonkeepers be permitted to screen off their bars and serve food and soft drinks. This reuest was also denied by the court, who ruled that the bill should go to final hearing without any temporary order.

Teders Labor Department's Services.

Following the adjournment of the conference, Joseph S. Myer, special representative of the department of labor, acting on advices from Secretary Wilson tendered the mine managers the services of the department of labor in adjusting the trouble in the strike district.

TO LAY SITUATION BEFORE FERGUSON

Committee of Border Residents Will Go to Austin Monday

WILL SEE GEN. FUNSTON

Meeting Empowers Committee to Take Whatever Steps It Deems Necessary

TROOPS TO PASS THROUGH U.S.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 23—Nineteen residents of the border country accompanied by Adjutant General Henry Hutchings of Texas will depart Monday afternoon for Austin where they will lay the border situation before Governor J. E. Ferguson. A committee appointed by a mass metting here today, then will go to Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio to see Major General Frederick Funston, after which it expects to go to Washington in a body to appeal for relief from continued outrages by Mexican bandits..

Attention Centers on Meeting

The border was quiet today with the attention of the section centered at Brownsville where citizens gathered to appeal to the state and federal governments for relief. Besides empowering the committee to present the facts to the authorities the meeting also empowered it to take whatever further steps it deemed necessary to bring a return or normal conditions. Resolutions set forth further that "It is an indisputable fact that the bandits and raiders are receiving comfort and assistance from and being recruited upon the Mexican side of the river and that local authorities on the Mexican side are, if not assisting the bandits, at least are making no bona fide effort to co-operate with the American authorities in apprehending them."

Hold Triple Funeral.

The triple funeral of three United States soldiers took place here today when the bodies of three men killed in the fight early Thursday at Ojo del Agua, were sent to their former homes. Three Mexicans arrested early today by Lieutenant P. B. Johnson, four miles from Brownsville, were released this afternoon. Three other Mexicans still are held in jail here on suspicion in connection with the train wrecking Monday night.

Permit Troops to Pass Through.

Washington, Oct. 23—Arrangements for passage through American territory of unarmed Carranza troops to reinforce the garrison at Agua Prieta were made after recognition of the de facto government, it was learned here tonight. A precedent was established during the Madero regime when the Taft administration allowed Mexican troops to cross Texas to reach points inaccessible by Mexican railroad lines.

Since the United States now is dealing with recognized government in Mexico no state of war exists there so far as the American government is concerned and the movement of the Carranza troops is looked upon as a move to prevent fighting on the international line at Agua Prieta with the possible injury to Americans in Arizona.

To Investigate Alleged Traffic In Diseased Meat

Livestock Commission Suspends Deputy Veterinarian in Charge at East St. Louis

DUNNE SUSPENDS KANE

SPRNIGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 23.—Because of an alleged traffic in the carcasses of cholera stricken hogs and diseased animals at East St. Louis, the live stock commission suspended today, Dr. Joseph H. Grosskretuez, deputy veterinarian in charge of the inspection department in East St. Louis pending an investigation. Governor Dunne also ordered the supension of William Kane, state humane officer.

The announcement of the suspension of the two officers followed a prolonged conference between Governor Dunne, Dr. Orrin Dyson, state veterinarian and members of the board of live stock commissioners.

To Prefer Charges.

It was announced that Dr. Grosskretuez was suspended pending an investigation. The commission also announced its intention to prefer charges of neglect of duty against the veterinarian before the Civil Service commission, he being a civil service employe.

The governor has requested the civil service commission to make their investigation include the entire matter, including the alleged connection therewith of Humane Officer Kane.

Kane appeared before the governor today and denied he was guilty of wrongdoing.

To Get to Bottom of Affair.

"The information was given to me confidentially," said Governor Dunne. "It appears that Dr. Grosskretuez was away on a vacation for four days and that during this time diseased carcasses were sold. The meat actually was sold by butchers in East St. Louis, I am told. Kane's connection with the business is that he is alleged to have been placed in charge of this inspection work during the veterinarians' absence. Kane denies this. The fact remains that diseased meat was sold to butchers who in turn retailed it, according to my understanding, and I am going to the bottom of the whole business."

ALLIES MOVE TO RELIEVE SERBIA

Begin Widely Separated Diversions on Both Land and Sea

WARSHIPS BATTER PORTS

Russ Increase Pressure on East Front—Land Men and Guns on Coast of Courland

TEUTONS MAINTAIN PRESSURE

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Widely separated, though synchronous diversions by the entente forces on land and sea, designed evidently as preliminary moves to relieve the strain on Serbia pending the time allied troops of sufficient weight can reach the Balkan front, have marked the developments of the last 36 hours.

Italy Launches General Offensive.

Italy, having confined herself for weeks to local actions, isolated attacks and counter attacks has launched a general offensive along the Tyrol and Trentino frontiers of Austria; allied warships, including Russian vessels, have battered the Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and Russia has increased the pressure on the eastern front and by a coup of combined land and sea operations has flung men and guns on the coast of Courland, ninety miles northeast of Riga, thus menacing the rear of General VonBelow's army which for so long a time has been trying to take the Baltic port.

The news of this surprise landing is disclosed in the Berlin communication which describes the forces landed as of small strength.

The fact that a Russian vessel participated in the bombardment of the Bulgarian coast is attested by a British official statement and is welcomed in England as an incident which will dispel the idea supposedly to be held by many Bulgars that they are fighting Serbia only and not their former ally, Russia. The Russian southern fleet, of course, is locked in behind the Dardanelles and the only Russian warship in Aegean waters, so far as is known, is the cruiser Askold.

Impossible to State Make-Up.

The admiralty statement relative to the bombardment speaks collectively of "British, French and Russian ships" so it is impossible to state the make-up of the squadron. If Italian craft took part it has not been made known in England. Russian participation however, has given stronger color to the recent rumors that she plans the landing of troops on the Bulgarian Black Sea coast. What progress the British and French troops are making in their advance northward to the relief of Serbia is still withheld and there are misgivings in many quarters that Serbia ever will be saved in this way. Greece's apparently authentic demand that allied soldiers, to insure her safety than allied concessions to expand her dominions constituted her price for aligning herself against the central powers and Turkey, carries the implication that she regards the forces landed at Saloniki as far from adequate for the purpose.

Roumania's Demand More Specific.

Roumania's stipulation governing her entry into the war in behalf of the entente powers has, according to report, narrowed to a similar though more specific demand for 400,000 allied troops to insure her against invasion. France, it is argued in some quarters here, could hardly spare the men and so the burden would necessarily fall on Russia and Great Britain, primarily Great Britain.

The king's appeal for recruits in England nas had a marked effect on today's enlistments according to the London papers and its ultimate effect with a fiar trial of the Earl of Derby's plan may decide the mooted question of conscription. That the Serbians' position is grave is the opinion of the British press.

A Serbian official communication refers to the presence of French troops co-operating with the Serbian forces in the neighborhood of Strumitsa, but in none of the communications since the beginning of the new Balkan campaign has the English been mentioned.

The Bulgarians, though hampered by bad weather, are driving further into the interior of Serbia while the Austro-German forces on the north and east frontiers are maintaining terrific pressure and moving slowly forward. They have gained another passage across the Dvina river near Visegrad.

Widening the Breach.

The demand made by Congressman Rainey in an open letter to Governor Dunne for the removal of Dr. Dyson, state veterinarian, will probably have no other effect than to widen the breach between the governor and his friends and Congressman Rainey and his friends. There has been political strife between these two factions for some time, evidenced particularly by the Rainey attack on the governor's waterway bill, and now by the effort being made to throw responsibility for the spread of food and mouth disease upon the state administration.

There has been carelessness somewhere in the fight made against the foot and mouth disease, but the average observer is unable to place the responsibility and does not know much about it except that the federal authorities blame the state authorities and the state authorities blame those at Washington. On a question which involves interests so large there should certainly not be bickering and strife over details, and the only way to effectively fight the disease is by concerted action. But the Dunne-Rainey controversy will not hurt anything and it at any rate will put some new interest into the Illinois political situation.

The Slavery of Ignorance.

Mr. Soares, vice-consul for Portugal, who is visiting in Jacksonville, attributes recent advances in his home country to better educational facilities. With the republican form of government came a new law of compulsory education and education for the people means uplift. When governmental affairs in Mexico have taken on a more stable condition than now exists, education must be the next step toward any permanent advancement in that country and for a wider civilization, for education is what Mexico needs. With Education will come the higher ideas of personal responsibility and real ideas of citizenship.

Mexico is a republic and the people are free, but it is charged that in the time of Diaz that many of the people were practically in slavery and this was true. Diaz realized that the people were not fully fitted for self-government and had not reached that plane of citizenship which entitled them to the exercise of the full rights under a republic. He had passed salutary laws looking toward the educational upbuilding of the republic and great progress had been made. Then came the upheaval which resulted in his leaving the country, and in the past two years the conflict has undone much of the good work fostered by Diaz and it will take many years to recover even the former ground. The people of Mexico, that is, the common people, are slaves of ignorance and the time must come when they throw off the yoke and become a free and enlightened people which is really their right under republican form of government.

Farmers' Institutes Help.

The splendid exhibits in connection with the farmers' institutes at Franklin and Murrayville the past week were made possible largely by interest shown by various country schools. This success suggested that if a still larger number of the country schools would co-operate in a joint institute, that the result would be eual to a county fair display. It is a strange fact, but in past years it has not seemed possible to awaken as much interest in the county institute exhibits as one can find in a precinct exhibit. Possibly the reason is that the interest is intensified in the smaller territory because neighbor vies with neighbor in seeking blue ribbon recognition.

The effect of the institute, especially where the interest and co-operation of the school pupil is secured, is beneficial indeed. The institute not only tends to help the farmer, as problems vitally affecting the interest of the farm are discussed, but has the effect also of making the farm boys and girls appreciate more that the farm is the best place of all to live and that it presents really great possibilities in a business way. The time was when farm life was considered a synonym for drudgery and the average boy's idea was that if he ever expected to have anything but hard work that he must get away to the city. But these days are past and with the improvements and betterments of recent years, the farm home has acquired all the comforts of the city and the business of farming has been recognized to be one of the most complex in the list and presenting the greater possibilities for development and advancement.

Miss Cavell's Sacrifice.

The dispatches indicate that an effort will be made in England to reap a speedy benefit from the execution of Miss Cavell, the British nurse who was executed by order of the German commander in Belgium, Gen. von Lancken. The cry of this brave woman's blood will be heard through all England, and the members of the ministry who have been urging conscription believe that this incident will give such a force to the government's appeal that enlistment will now be heavy. It appears from the report issued by the British war office that Miss Cavell in aiding certain English, French and Belgian soldiers to escape, did commit an offense which under the customs of war was punishable by death.

If a man had been executed for the same offense there would not have been such an appeal to humanity as this case has brought. But for a mowan's life to end in this way, after she yielded to the natural impulse to aid her countrymen, and along with the knowledge that she had in hospital service given aid also to wounded German soldiers, there has come an appeal to sentiment and humanity of a different sort. This heroine's death was in reality not more cruel—no more inhuman—than are thousands of deaths occurring each day as the great conflict goes on, but the facts bring it into special prominence. Possibly such an event will aid in bringing the war to an early end, in accordance with that theory that the system of butchery which holds the life of no man or woman sacred will eventually from its very horror wear itself out.

Publicity and Big Business.

There has not been recently a more marked indication of changing sentiment about big business than the statement just made by Judge Gary, chairman of the U. S. steel corporation, when he came out strongly for business publicity. A few years ago a man holding such a position and making such a statement would have been considered insane, but there has come a great deal of development in thought along this line and the men who manage big business have realized not only that it is good policy to let the facts of their business be known, but also that the public has a greater right to such information that was formerly considered true.

Judge Gary found one argument for publicity in the great war, defining it with this statement, "If the masses of the people of the different nations now at war in Europe were fully informed of the facts, is it to be supposed that the war would continue much longer?" Judge Gary declared that publicity is one of the most important questions of the day and that the day of conducting business on the principle of "the public be damned" had most certainly passed away.

The lack of publicity has been the cause of errors and misconduct of a great many business institutions. It formerly was the chief fault with the great insurance companies, with the railroads and with other industries and it remained for leaders in advanced thought, to point out to the few the obligation to the many, and to show the many the real interest that thty have in the few. With the light of publicity flooded upon big business in an increasisng way there will be little need, indeed, for trust regulations.

PARKWAY FOR HARDIN AVENUE IS BEING CONSIDERED

Would Greatly Beautify That Highway and Make Fine Approach to Nichols Park.

The latest suggestion for street improvement in Jacksonville is a parkway for Hardin avenue. The project has not yet taken any definite form bu Mayor Rodgers is quite enthusiastic about the possibilities of a parkwtay. His idea is that if a concrete curb were placed along that avenue from Morton avenue to the Vandalia road at such distance apart that space was left for a parkway in the centerfi that in a few years the effect would be beautiful indeed, and that the value of adjacent property would be materially increased.

A part of the highway is in Jacksonville and a part in South Jacksonville, and anything done in this line would have to result from the co-operative action of the authorities of the city and the village and the property owners. A parkway is only possible where there is good street width, and this condition is true on Hardin avenue. It is estimated that the cost would not be excessive and certainly if such an improvement could be figured out, the result would be very gratifying. The street would not only become especially desirable from a residence standpoint, but would be a special beauty spot for Jacksonville and would furnish a magnificent approach to Nichols park.

GAVE DINNER IN HONOR OF PORTUGUESE VICE CONSUL

Mr. Soares Guest of Local Citizens—Gave Interesting Facts About His Home Land.

In honor of Jose De P. Soares, vice consul and acting consul of Portugal, located in Chicago, a dinner was given at the Dunlap hotel Saturday evening, which a number of well known Portuguese citizens attended. The company included Messrs. A. F. Franks, E. M. Vasconcellos, H. H. Vasconcellos, John N. Joaquin, Joshua Vasconcellos, Joseph Estaque and Joseph Gomes.

Following the dinner a very pleasant hour was spent, during which the honored guest told very interesting facts concerning the development of Portugal in later years, especially since the change of government to a Republican form. There has been a marked advance in the literacy of the country, due in great extent to compulsory education law now in effect there. Statistics show the great advances already made and it is estimated that in one more generation that illiteracy will be reduced almost to a minimum.

Another fact to which Mr. Soares assigned the advancement is the greater religious freedom that now exists. Mr. Soares had been in Chicago only a few months. He has been located in New York for four years. Each year except the present one he has returned to his native country for a visit. That was not advisable this year on account of the war. It is his expectation when the war is over to make a home trip and enroute he expects to spend some time in the war devasted country. He is highly educated and the Jacksonville men who have met him have been greatly interested in the facts he relates, based upon personal experience. He is a graduate of the polytechnic school of Lisbon and took a degree in the superior course of commerce at the Institute Industrial and Commercial of Lisbon.

BANK OFFICERS GO TO TRIAL.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 23—Matthew M. Lowrey and Emmett C. Hawkins, officials of the defunct Americus National Bank, will go to trial on Monday in the United States District Court here before Judge W. W. Lambdin. The two officers of the bank were indicted in connection with the failure of the bank at Americus, and their prominence gives the trial unusual interest. The officials of the defunct Commercial National Bank of Macon will not be tried at this term, because of the large docket.

PROBE CALIFORNIA TELEPHONE RATES.

San Francisco, Oct. 23—On Monday the Railroad Commission will begin an investigation of the telephone rates and regulations throughout the State. The complaint of the City of San Francisco concerning telephone charges is the basis for the inquiry. The Pacific Telephone Company has also asked for an examination of rates and regulations, and for the making of such changes in these as "shall be necessary to return to the company a fair interest on its investment".

The city alleges that the rates are now and for a long time have been excessive. The company has made complete inventories and appraisals of its exchanges and will present to the commission its views on the telephone service and charges. The city will present an outline of local charges in comparison with charges paid by subscribers for telephone service in cities where there is competition.

RUSSIA AT TURK'S BACK SAY ARABIC PERIODICALS

Reports in Syrian Papers Tell of Fights in Caucasia, Says Julius C. Nayphe of Springfield.

That there was method in the madness of the Russians in the removal of Grand Duke Nicholas from the German fighting line is the opinion of the Rev. Julius C. Nayphe of Springfield, who gathers from Syrian publications the fact that Russian armies have gone by way of the Caspian sea and the Caucasus and entering the Turkish Empire's back door have made depredations in Asia. Though operations on a scale somewhat extensive are mentioned in the Arabic papers, reports from that quarter of the world are hard to get through regular channels and little has been heard of the Grand Duke since the time of his supplanting by the czar.

Mr. Nayphe was in Jacksonville last week visiting Shadid brothers, former fellow townsmen of his in Al Merj, a city fifty miles from Damascus. Mr. Nayphe, who has been in America eight years and does considerable lyceum and chautauqua work, was a school mate of Samuel Shadid in Syria. He is an ordained minister in the Baptist church, having completed a theological course in Louisville, Ky.

FRITZI SCHEFF
IN
Pretty Mrs. Smith

A PROBLEM.

What would you do if you married a mission ary, went out to Africa with him, tired of the life and came home? Having received news that your husband was dead, promptly proceeded to marry another man with the same last name.

With this husband you attempt love in a cottage, and finding he is not a good provider you threaten to sue him for non-support. He disappears, leaving a note of farewell pinned to his coat, which is discovered at the edge of the sad sea waves.

Having thus disposed of No. 2 you fall in love again, this time with a wealthy clubman, athletically inclined, but of a jealous nature, and No. 3 threatens to sue for divorce, after having left you to your own devices.

Now, suppose all three husbands should reappear at one time, do you think that you would really be a bigamist and what do you think you would do? This is the situation in which Fritzi Scheff finds herself in the title role of "Pretty Mrs. Smith".

The best method of solving this problem is to see for yourself how she does it.

Notes On Live Farm Themes

For a man who has the earned reputation of being an extensive feeder, the farm of William Mortimer in the Woodson neighborhood presents an unusual appearance. Mr. Mortimer hasn't a single hog or head of cattle on his extensive farm. He has about 180 acres of land in cultivation and 300 acres of blue grass pasture, and there is no stock on it. This condition will probably be true two or three months, as the plan Mr. Mortimer follows is to buy cattle along about February and put them on pasture with the expectation of shipping them to market late in the fall. This system has been followed on the Mortimer farm successfully for a number of years, and the shipment of about 180 head of cattle from the farm a few weeks ago was in line with this general policy. Mr. Mortimer believes thoroughly in the cattle business, but does not think there is much money in putting a lot of grain down a steer's throat. He prefers cattle having some age and good frame, and of course purchases them when they are thin. Ordinarily he buys steers that weigh about 900 pounds and when they have been turned into pasture of heavy blue grass, shaded in parts, the average gain is 50 pounds per head a month.

Mr. Mortimer does not have any special market in which he buys and sometimes the cattle come from Kansas City, sometimes from St. Louis. One of the best purchases he ever made was in Omaha. The cattle were of good weight and grade and had been fed silage only before shipment. This had not proved a satisfactory ration because it was not fed with anything else and as a result the cattle had not made gains. This condition resulted in their shipment to market and they were in very fine shape for pasturage when Mr. Mortimer bought them. It has occasionally happened that Mr. Mortimer has found it best to give a little corn to his catlte late in the spring, but usually he sends them to market simply grass fat. The plan usually followed on this farm is to purchase hogs rather than raise them, and Mr. Mortimer will probably soon be in the market for a good bunch of stock hogs. He usually buys them weighing from 100 to 125 pounds and in past years has found about all he needs in his own neighborhood. Possibly this year he may purchase a lot of immune hogs in St. Louis as he thinks that the additional cost is justified.

A farmer living in the Murrayville neighborhood recently purchased 25 head of spring calvess which he intends to feed for baby beef. He has a silo on the place, but has been advised that to get the best results it will be necessary to feed something with the silage to give a balanced ration. Alfalfa or clover hay fed with the silage will give the best ration, and the plan followed by many successful feeders is to give some cotton seed meal or oil meal to cattle of this class. It is necessary if the right results are to be secured for the greatest care to be used in fixing the proportion of meal to be fed. It is quite expensive, and not only must it be fed economically, but there is some danger of sickness if too large quantities are given.

"Two weeks more of pleasant weather", said H. A. Furry yesterday, "will put the corn in condition for delivery to the elevator. It is drying out now rapidly and with good weather can be shucked out and delivered". Most corn is still so sappy that if a load is left on a wagon for a day and a night it begins to heat. The decline in the price offered for corn by grain men is somewhat puzzling to farmers and they do not know whether it is best to sell or hold their corn. About ten days ago elevators were paying 50c. This was shortly afterward reduced to 48c, then to 47 and the prevailing prices Saturday were 46 and 47c. There have been such declines in the wheat market and hog market that the lowering of corn has not been out of proportion. A number of grain men believe that still further declines will come unless there is a period of bad weather which stops the ripening process. Some of them even predict that the price will go below 40c within a short time.

The decline in the hog market has been especially sharp and the packers have taken off $1.15 a hundred in one week's time. The heaviest decline has been on the light weight stock and shipments of this class have been especially heavy. One reason for the heavy shipments is that cholera is again quite prevalent. This is true in Morgan county, although the disease does not exist here to the alarming extent that was true a year ago. A great many droves of hogs have been vaccinated but the cause of vaccination has been injured a great deal by the spread of the foot and mouth disease and the belief that a good deal of the disease was caused by the careless sales of infected serum. None of this serum reached Morgan county, but the effect of the whole agitation has unfortunately been to engender a little incredulity as to the efficiency of vaccination. On the other hand, the proven results of vaccination where the proper serum is used are so satisfactory that the men who have given the vaccination question the most serious consideration are very firm in their belief as to its efficiency.

And speaking of the heavy shipment of hogs of all grades, especially the lighter kinds, given some light to the fact that heavy shipments usually come with a declining market. It has been said that one reason for the recent decline is that the shipments have not been as heavy as the packers want and that because of unusual export demand that the supply has not been fully up to requirements, and that in consequence the packers have forced the lower figures with the expectation of increasing shipments.

It is said to be a fact proven by records of the larger markets that shipments are far more liberal from farmers and stockmen when the markets are on the decline than when they show an upward tendency. The reason, no doubt, is that the farmer who watches a rising market thinks that he will hold his stock just a little longer and get a better price even if the stock is ready to go to the market. Then if he is watching a declining market he will hurry forward his stock for fear of having to accept a still lower price if he holds it, and the result it that a great many hogs and cattle which are not really finished for the market intended are hurriedly shipped because of the fear of still further declines.

Edward Patterson, who lives in the Joy Prairie neighborhood, said Saturday that it will take two or three weeks more of weather like we are having now before most of the corn in his locality is ready for cribbing or for elevator delivery. Mr. Patterson believes that the reason corn is so late in maturing is that in his locality the hail storm which came along in May cut off a great deal of the corn and the plant which grew and matured later was from new shoots. This fact accounts for the corn now being in a much more sappy condition than is usually true at this same time of year.

Ordinarily Mr. Patterson is feeding more hogs than he has on his farm now, but he is a little slow about purchasing any more because cholera exists on several farms in his neighborhood. He is considering the advisability of buying some cattle a little later on, probably springers, and will feed them through the winter and then put them on grass next spring. One reason this plan gives promise of profit this year is because hay is cheap and plentiful. There is more clover this year and at a low price than has been true for a long period before. Furthermore the number of cattle in the county is comparatively small and this means that a great many farmers have clover, alfalfa or other hay which they wish to sell.

Henry H. Stevenson and his sons, who operate Mr. Stevenson's extensive farm just west of the city, have recently finished filling two silos. The silage is for the herd of Jerseys to which Howard Stevenson gives his attention. Mr. Stevenson believes that the corn prospect is not at all discouraging. He is expecting to feed most of the crop he has if he can find hogs of suitable size and frame to purchase. He believes that corn as soon as it is ready for market will be worth 50c a bushel and that if the quotations are not at that figure then that a grower can safely store his corn and stand the shrinkage.

Mr. Stevenson's views are somewhat in accord with those of Mr. Mortimer, who is not so certain as to price but feels that the government report of the corn crop has been considerably exaggerated and that when the crop has been matured and cribbed that the result will not be up to the expectations based on the government estimates.

C. R. Lewis, of the Beggs & Lewis firm, said Saturday that they were paying 47 cents for corn and could take deliveries in ten days or two weeks if drying weather continues. Thomas Cain, of the Arnold Farmers' elevator, said that under present market conditions that 46 cents was a good price for corn.

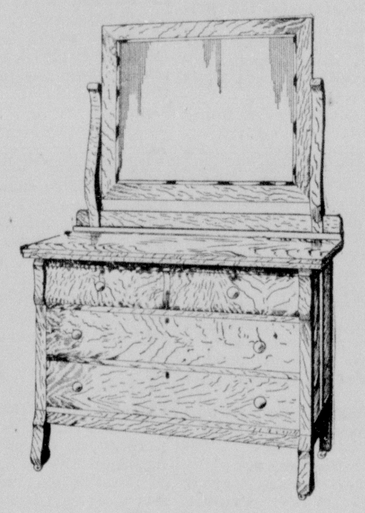

THE CRAZY WAR

When the flags have ceased to flutter over ambush, siege and rout, then perhaps the kings will mutter, "What was all this scrap about? We have torn our lands asunder, it has been a dandy war, but the time has come to wonder what in blitzen was it for? Now that for a little season we have ceased our glory fun, we'll have time to find a reason for the butchering we've done". They'll have time, the kings and princes, to ransack each royal mind, but a reason that convinces will be mighty hard to find. For a while they will endeavor, each to vindicate his crown, but the true excuse will never from a throne be handed down. If an honest, candit kinglet told the truth, he would declare, "By my halidom and cinglet,, we Were loaded up for bear; at each other we'd been yapping, springing warlike threat and curve, and we had to do some scrapping, just to show we had the nerve. We were wild and we were woolly, on each shoulder was a chip and we had to act the bully, or we feared we'd lose our grip". Still the reeking cannon thunder, and there is no sign of peace, and the sickened nations wonder what's become of the police.

ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING.

David Konrad, H. L. Ogal and J. Hegerty, three Jacksonville men were arrested for speeding in Springfield Friday night. The arrest was made after the car which Konrad was driving had jumped the curbing, hit a tree and a telephone pole and turned over on its side. The car was demolished and the men all thrown out. Three Springfield men were in the car but they escaped arrest and also injury. The men were driving in North Seventh street and forgot that it ended at North Grand avenue. Evidently Konrad who was driving the car didn't know it but he soon found it out. Charles Adams, a plain clothes man, was on the scene shortly after the accident and placed the men under arrest. Adams says they were going at a speed of about forty miles an hour. Konrad on the other hand says he was driving at a rate of speed of ten or fifteen miles an hour. At any rate the men were taken in on the charge of speeding and it is probable that heavy fines will be assessed against them. The car according to the story in the Springfield papers is the property of Edward Konrad.

WISCONSIN DEEEATS OHIO STATE ELEVEN

FIGHT ON EVEN TERMS DURING FIRST HALF.

Capt. Russel's Fifty Yard Run in Third Period Gives Chicago a Victory Over Purdue—Minnesota Trounces Iowa.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23—Wisconson defeated Ohio State on the gridiron this evening 21 to 0.

After fighting on even terms during the first half, Ohio's open attack was slightly effective but Wisconsin's was even better. Wisconsin's first touchdown was made in the third when Byers circled an end, Simpson kicking goal. Two additional touchdowns were scored by Wisconsin in the final period. The first of these was made when Byers ran through the entire Ohio team and the second when Stavrum pulled down a pretty pass from Byers and carried it over the line, Simpson kicking the goal.

While Byers was Wisconsin's brightest star, Smith, a teammate, made several fine runs and Cautain Buck and Hancock were effective in defense the former at center part of the game.

For Ohio Fullback Boesel and Halfback Hobt played well. Penalties were unusually scarce.

Chicago, 7; Purdue, 0.

Chicago, Oct. 23—Purdue's great defense centered about Captain Blocker nearly upset traditions today but Captain Russell's 50-yard run on the kickoff in the third period turned the scale and Chicago won seven to nothing, after a bitter battle. If the Purdue's defense was a marvel its attacks however, was slow and except for Pults outpunting Russell by many yards the Maroons showed much the better offense.

The Boilermakers line outplayed Chicago's and their tackling was the best seen on Stagg Field for some time. No time was taken out for injuries in the first half and there were no substitutions in that time.

Minnesota, 51; Iowa, 13.

Minneapolis, Oct. 23—Presenting a brilliant and varied attack the University of Minnesota football eleven trounced the University of Iowa team here today 51 to 13. The Iowans second touchdown was scored after a number of second string men had entered the Minnesota lineup.

Elected captain just before the game to replace the ineligible Solon, Bernard Bierman set the pace for the Gophers on their many rushes down the field his performance easily overshadowing the work of any other player. Other Minnesotans who contributed materially to the victory were Long, Wyman, Ballengyn and Quist.

Washington, 38; Drury, 0.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23—With "Poge" Lewis its star kicker and all-around player out of the game because of injuries, Washington University ran over Drury College at Springfield, Mo., 38 to 0 on the local school's grounds today.

Washington and Jefferson 16, Yale 7

New Haven, Conn, Oct 23—Washington and Jefferson's splendid eleven used the forward pass with uncanny precision today and humbled Yale 16 to 7 in a spectacular contest It was the second successive year that the team from the litlte Pennsylvania college regisered a defeat over the Blue.

When the visitors used old fashioned line plays, they found the Yale line a stonewall but when they elected the aerial attack the Blue defense crumbled. The assault was so varied that Yale was completely bewildered. The pass was always thrown in a machine-like manner. This is strongly shown in the analysis of the game, the victors completing 22 out of 24 attempted passes.

Army, 10; Georgetown, 0.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 23—The Army defeated Georgetown by ten to nothing here today in one of the roughest games ever staged on the local gridiron. One cadet and two collegians were ruled off for unnecessary roughness and the play was marred by the infliction of penalties for off-side play and holding in the line with Georgetown offending most frequently. In the last quarter Gormley of Georgetown was accused of biting McEwan in the arm.

Oliphant, formerly of Purdue who has been distinguishing himself in all branches of sport, scored all of the army's points.

Cornell, 10; Harvard, 0.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 23—Cornell caught Harvard napping today and won a well deserved victory by a score of 10 to 0. Before the Crimson players had awakened to the power of the Cornell attack Captain Mahan had made a costly fumble, another Harvard player was caught offside and Barrett, the Cornell captain had scored the only touchdown of the game within five minutes after the start. A goal from the field kicked by Shiverick in the last period from the 42-yard line ended the scoring. It was the first football victory ever scored by Cornell over the Crimson and the first Harvard defeat in four years.

Navy, 20; Virginia Poly, 0.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 23—Playing their heavier opponents to a standstill in the first two periods but unable to stand indefinitely the handicap of many pounds to the man, Virginia Polytechnic Institute's football team was defeated 20 to 0 by Navy here this afternoon.

Pittsburgh 14; Pennsylvania, 7.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23—The University of Pennsylvania football team was defeated for the second time this season, the University of Pittsburgh winning today's game on Franklin Field by the score of 14 to 7.

Illinois, 36; Northwestern, 6.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 23.—Minus the services of Pogue and Clark, Zuppke's crippled champions waded through Northwestern this afternoon for a 36 to 6 victory.

Macomber pulled thrillers in the first part of the game but honors for Illini were well distributed. Driscoll and Patterson starred for Northwestern. In the first ten minutes of play Macomber ran thirty yards within striking distance of the goal, Brenneman then rushed the ball over.

The only score of the Purple was brought about by a fumble by Brenneman. Driscoll advanced 50-yards on kickoff to Illinois' 45 yard line but was forced to punt and Brenneman fumbled. Northwestern recovered on the 15 yard line and Patterson covered the distance for the touchdown. Driscoll failed at goal.

Illinois' line showed well but Northwestern's delayed pass baffled them and made repeated gains.

Nebraska, 20; Notre Dame, 19.

Lincoln, Oct. 23.—Nebraska triumphed over Notre Dame today by a score of 20 to 19 and the narrow margin of a single point, according to critics who saw the game, represents the superiority of the winning team.

It was a stirring game between teams in the pink of condition and almost equally matched in weight and stamina.

Princeton, 30; Dartmouth, 7.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 23.—Dartmouth did not show her expected football strength and was overwhelmed by Princeton in their annual game in Palmer Stadium today by the score of 30 to 7. It was the second time that the Tigers were scored on this season, their line being crossed today near the end of the game on a forward pass.

ILLINOIS STILL IN LEAD FOR CHAMPIONSHIP HONORS

Big Game With Wesleyan on Illinois Field Friday to be Battle Royal—Visitors May Charter Car and Bring Down University Band.

The coming week will witness some strenuous practice on the part of the Illinois college football team, in preparation for the game here Friday against Wesleyan university. yesterday Wesleyan hung it onto William and Vashti by a score of 17 to 13 and while this struggle was going on Lombard and Millikin played a 13 to 13 score game on the Decatur field. Up to this time Illinois college has the clearest title to the championship. Illinois defeated Lombard 14 to 7 and Normal 27 to 0, and yesterday trimmed the Shurtleff team 40 to 6.

If Illinois would continue her march toward the championship goal she must down Wesleyan Friday. This will put not only Wesleyan out of the way, but will also eliminate William and Vashti. The following week Illinois will take on Millikin. Lombard was minus Foedisch, their star full back in the game Saturday and two more of their good players had to be taken out because of injuries received a week ago. The Lombard team that Illinois met was considerable stronger than the eleven Millikin ran up against yesterday. Millikin, perhaps, is comparing her strength against Illinois in regard to the Shurtleff game. Millikin beat Shurtleff a week ago 60 to 0, but Shurtleff laid down in the last quarter and Millikin made their scores at will. And then too it was not Illinois first team altogether that met Shurtleff yesterday. However Illinois has two terrific games ahead of them. It is understood that the Wesleyan students are going to charter a special car and bring down a big crowd of rooters and also their university band. Illinois hopes to have their band ready also for the game Saturday.

JACKSONVILLE BADLY DEFEATED BY SPRINGFIELD

Capital City High School Eleven Piles Up Score of 59 to 0 Against Local Team.

Jacksonville high school football team met a decisive defeat at the hands of Springfield high at Springfield Saturday afternoon, the score being 59 to 0. Springfield played such an offensive game that the local lads were kept on the jump all the time to keep the score down. Springfield has a heavy team this year, averaging 165 and their line is one of the strongest in the state. Jacksonville, what gains they made were by forward passes and end runs. Springfield plowed through J. H. S.'s line at will. Homer Reynolds, who played his first game at half back was praised by the Springfield coach. Priest at quarter acquitted him sell well for his first attempt and MacRamey gave evidence of making a place on the squad. The local lads were simply outclassed, although they kept up their fight until the final whistle blew. Freidmayer was the star player for Springfield and he is a powerful kicker. He made a pretty drop kick from the 40 yard line. Springfield scored 17 points in the first quarter, 17 in the second, 11 in the third and 14 in the last uarter.

ILLINOIS DOWNS SHURTLEFF 40 TO 6

EASY VICTORY ON ALTON FIELD SATURDAY.

Shurtleff Makes Only Point When Autwater Picks Up Fumble and Runs Length of Field—Second String Men Used in Contest.

Excepting for a fluke by Shurtleff in the first few minutes of play Saturday afternoon at Alton, Illinois college would have put the white wash on Shurtleff. As it was the local varsity eleven hung it onto the Shurtleff team by a score of 40 to 6. The game was called at noon because the Western Military Academy had a game with the Freshman team of St. Louis University at 2 o'clock on the same gridiron. Coach Harmon took along a string of second team men and they made a creditable showing. Reynolds played his first full college game at quarter and gave a good account of himself, running the squad in splendid fashion Lukeman also played a fast game and in fact all the substitutes showed up well. The early playing of the game enabled the local players to get back in town early.

First Quarter.

In the first quarter Illinois kicked to Shurtleff and Illinois immediately held them for downs. Shurtleff punted. Illinois started to march toward the Shurtleff goal, when about 20 yards from goal line, Alford carried the ball on a cross buck, fumbled it, and the ball rolled out to one side, where Autwater left half back of the Shurtleff team, gathered it into his arms on the bounce and ran the length of the field for a touch down. Illinois received next kick off and in less than time it takes to tell about it, carried the ball down the field on long end runs and tackle plunges until Alford plunged through for the first Illinois touched down. Reynolds kicked an easy goal.

Second Quarter.

Shortly after the beginning of the second quarter Karch, Illinois' right end, duplicated the performance of the Shurtleff half back when he gathered up a Shurtleff fumble and ran 40 yards for a touch down. Still another touch down was made in this quarter by Mitchell who carried the ball over for a score after it had been carried well into Illinois territory by a series of line plunges, end runs and forward passes. Reynolds kicked both goals, making the score 21 to 6 at the end of the half.

Third Quarter.

The second half started with Illinois kicking to Shurtleff. The players were not yet well warmed up, when Shurtleff tried a forward pass, on their own 30 yard line only to have it intercepted by Karch who rambled over the line for his second touch down of the game. Reynolds kicked goal. A few minutes later after the ball had been carried steadily down the fiefild, by Lukeman and Reynolds, within striking distance, Alford plunged through the Shurtleff line for his second touch down. Reynolds kicked goal, but it was not allowed by the officials, because Whisler who was just about to enter the game, ran onto the field while the kick was being made and the referee declared goal illegal. Score 34 to 6.

Final Quarter.

The final quarter found the Illinois team made up largely of substitute players. Even up to this time, there were a number of second string players playing. Mellor was in Friesbie's place at right tackle, Lukeman filled Hansel Wilson's position at right half, and Reynolds was piloting the team, while Captain Stewart watched his understudy from the sidelines.

Further substitutions were made, when Whisler took Helmle's place at left half back. Jones relieved Alford at full back, Ray Wilson took Russel's place at center, Sooy gave Mitchell a rest at right tackle, and Zink came to the sideline when Mangner took his place at left guard. Even with this lineup, composed of almost entirely of substitute players, Quarterback Reynolds was able to drive his team through the Shurfleff eleven for the final touch down of the game. Reynolds missed goal, the only one of the afternoon. Final score Illinois 40; Shurtleff 6.

EIGHT STATES WILL HOLD ELECTIONS ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER SECOND

MASSACHUSETTS, MARLYLAND, KENTUCKY AND MISSISSIPPI TO NAME GOVERNORS

Important Constitutional Issues Are to Be Decided in Five States—Woman Suffrage Will Come Up for Decision in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

Eight states, New York. Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, and Mississippi, will hold elections on Tuesday, November, 2nd.

In four of these states, Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi governors are to be elected; in six states, New York, Massachusette, Maryland. New Jersey, Kentucky and Mississippi the state legislatures, in whole or in part, are to be elected, and in five states, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio, important constitutional issues are to be decided.

With a few local exceptions, in fact, these constitutional questions will be the dominant issues on election day, including as they do such fundamental matters as woman suffrage, municipal home rule, prohibition, state income taxes. referendum plans, and some lesser reforms.

The woman suffrage question will come up for decision in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which states will furnish, in point of population, the greatest test the suffrage issue has ever had in the United States. New Jersey, the first state in the East to vote on equal suffrage, defeated the proposition at a special election given over exclusively to the suffrage question on October 19. While it has been held by some political observers that the result of the test in New Jersey would be reliably indicative of what might be expected in the three bigger neighboring states, the suffrage leaders have not been discouraged by the big majority with which the issue was defeated in New Jersey, and look forward to the bigger test with confidence.

The importance of this test is indicated by the fact that, in point of population, the states of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which will vote on suffrage on November 2nd., include over 20,000,000 people, a fifth of the population of the entire United States—and these 20,000,000 are practically double the population of the states in which equal suffrage has as yet been fully achieved.

New York State

In New York State, in addition to the suffrage issue, a dominant feature of the election will be the question of adopting a new state constitution as revised by a recent state constitutional convention, presided over by Elihu Root. The new constitution, at the request of the suffrage leaders, has not been made to include the suffrage amendment, hence the constitution and the suffrage issue will be voted upon separately, neither question having anything to do directly with the fate of the other.

The features of the revised constitution are measures designed to give the cities of the state greater latitude in the management of municipal affairs, and coincidently to relieve the legislature of a vast amount of local matters; to make the governor a more responsible individual by making the numerous executive arms of the administration more directly responsible to him, to reform the judiciary so as to eliminate some of the red tape that is declared to handicap the prompt execution of the laws; and among other provisions the short ballot and the budget system. Two important articles, relating to taxation and reapportionment will be submitted to the voters. separate from the general constitution question. Two other separate amendments would provide for a $27,000,000 bond issue to complete the Barge Canal, and to permit the legislature to alter the rate of interest on certain state debts already incurred. Although the Republicans were in a majority in the convention, they are not a unit in supporting the new constitution nor are the Democrats standing solidly against it.

In personnel, the New York election calls for the choice of a full assemby of 150 members, eleven Supreme Court justices and three Congressman, as well as county and city officials in some sections of the State.

Congressional successors are to be chosen to Joseph A. Goulden, Democrat, of the twenty-third district, and Edwin A. Merritt, Jr., and Sereno T. Payne, of the thirty-first and thirty-sixth, respectively, who died while serving in the last ongress. The candidates are: William S. Bennttt. Republican, and Elsworth J. Healy, Democrat, both of New York, in the twenty-third district; Bertrand H. Snell of Pottsdam, Republican, William L. Allen, of Malone, Democrat, and Howard D. Hadley, of Plattsburg, Progressive, in thethirty-first district; and Norman S. Gould, of Seneca Falls. Republican-Progressive, and Louis J. Licht, of Geneva, Democrat, in the thirty-sixth.

Massachusetts

Massachusetts, in addition to the suffrage amendment, will vote on the proposition of giving the legislature authority to impose a tax on incomes, and similar authority for the taking over of land in country districts for the purpose of establishing homesteads for those who may wish to escape from the more congested quarters of the cities.

A successor to governor David I. Wash, Democrat, is to be elected and the candidates, including Governor Walsh, are: Nelson B. Clark, Progressive; Samuel W. McCall, Republican; William Shaw, Prohibition; Walter S. Hutchins. Socialist, and PeterO'Rourke. Socialist-Labor.

A lieutenant-governor and various other state officials together with forty senators and 240 members of the state House of Representatives are also to be elected.

Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania will have comparatively little of general interest to its election outside of the vote on the suffrage question No state officers are to be elected with the exception of three candidates to fill vacancies on the Superior Court bench. In general the only thing other than the suffrage issue to attract the voters to the polls will be county and municipal elections, although one Congressman is to be elected to fill a vacancy in the twenty-fourth district.

In Philadelphia the Republican organization has conducted a vigorous campaign to regain control of the city administration, which was wrested from it four years ago when the reform elements united with the Democratic party and elected Rudolph Blankenburg, a life-long reformer in politics, as mayor. The Republican candidate for the mayoralty this fall is Thomas B. Smith, former Postmaster of Philadelphia. His chief opponent is George D. Porter, a reformer who has been director of the department of public safety in the Blankenburg administration. He resigned to make the canvas for the mayoralty under the banner of the recently formed Franklin party. The Democratic party is running its candidates on a straight party ticket.

Maryland

Maryland will elect a governor, comptroller of the state treasury, attorney-general, a full house of delegates and half of the state senate. In addition four constitutional amendments will be voted upon, and local minor officers will be chosen in the counties and Baltimore City. Candidates to succeed Governor Goldsborough, Republican, are:: Ovington E. Weller, Republican; Emerson C. Harrington, Democrat, and George R. Gorsuch, Prohibitionist.

The constitutional amendments are for the referendum. a new taxation scheme, home rule for cities, and parole in criminal cases. The referendum plan is practically the same as that followed in other states, except that the Maryland proposition includes a prohibiton against the use of the referendum in any local option or license legislation. If the home rule amendment carries the legislature will be relieved of a vast amount of purely local legislation, which would be vested in the city and county councils; while the taxation amendment provides for the classification of all kinds of property for the purpose of taxation.

Ohio.

There will be general interest in the election in Ohio for the reason that state-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic is an issue again this year, as it was last year in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment which would forbid the sale or manufacture for sale of any alcoholic beverages. The "wets" have countered this proposal with petiitons under the initiative and referendum law by which the people will also vote on another provision which would prevent the submission of any constitutional amendment more than twice in six years. Ohio is the only state in the Union which will vote this fall upon the liquor issue. In addition to the broader question of prohibition the so-called liquor license decentralization law, passed by the recent legislature, will be subjected to referendum. The issue concerns largely the method of selection of license commissioners.

The Sprague congressional redistricting bill, passed by the recent legislature, will also be under fire by referendum, which was petitioned by the Democratic state organization. The redistricting law as drawn would, it is declared, result in normal years in the election of sixteen Republican congressmen and possibly six Democratic congressmen. The Democrats claim that the law which they passed when in power divided the districts about evenly as between the two parties.

All cities in Ohio will select mayors and other municipal officers at the coming election, but no state officers are to be chosen this fall.

Kentucky.

The Kentuckians will elect a governor for a four-year term, all other state officers, one half of the state senate and an entire assembly. Democrats, Republicans and Prohibitionists have candidates for all the state offices. with Republican and Democratic contestants for every place on the ballot and the Progressives are represented by candidates for nearly all the State offices and numerous seats in the general assembly. The Socialist party has only a candidate for governor.

In the last presidential election the Progressive party in Kentucky polled approximately 12,000 more votes than the Republicans, but the latter claim to have regained many of those who had left the ranks

Four years ago, when Governor McCreary, Democrat, was elected, his majority over his Republican opponent was approximately 33,000.

Former Congressman A. O. Stanley of Henderson, recently won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a three-sided contest by the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate in Kentucky. The runner-up declared in favor of state-wide prohibition. Mr. Stanley favored continuing in effect the county unit law, or local option. This stand later was incorporated in the Democratic party platform. The platform also favors submitting to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment that would do away with the prison contract system and permitting the working of convicts on the county roads.

Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, is the Republican nominee. Fred J. Irexler, a Louisville man, heads the Progressive ticket.

Mississippi.

The election in Mississippi will be merely a ratification of the nominations made by the Democratic voters at the state primaries held last August, inasmuch as no other party has candidates in the field. A full set of state, county and district officers will be formally elected, as well as members of both branches of the legislature. No congressmen will be elected this year.

The presenst lieutenant-governor, Theodore G. Bilbo, will become governor, succeeding Earl Brewer, and Lee M. Russell will be the lieutenant-governor. Other candidates for state offices include Secretary of State Joseph W. Power; attorney-general, Ross A. Collins; treasurer, Dr. J. P. Taylor; superintendent of education, W. H. Smith.

New Jersey.

Having disposed of the suffrage issue at the special election October 19, New Jersey has left little of general interest for the election of November 2. Voting on this day will be confined to the election of six members of the state senate and a full membership of 60 in the House. The campaign has bene very quiet, no state-wide issues being involved. In some legislative districts, local option has been an issue.

The elections in the eight states that have been mentioned in the foregoing comprise all of the state elections that will be held in the United States this fall. and, as will be noted, the voting is confined entirely to states east of the Mississippi river.

WHEN SUFFRAGISTS ORGANIZED 65 YEARS AGO

Eleven States Represented in First Suffrage Convention — Some "Antis" of 1850.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 22.—The 65th anniversary of the first organized woman's suffrage rights convention ever held in the United States is being observed here by suffragist leaders from New England and other states. The birth of the suffrage movement also registered the birth of the "antic" for on that occasion many prominent women refused to be present or to have their names connected in any way with the issue. Some of the 'Antis" of 1850 were curt and reproachful, but in the early days of the movement for woman suffrage the issue was laughed at and the opponents did not organize.

The first woman's rights convention opened here on Oct. 19, 1850, and lasted until the 24th. Among the speakers were men and women prominent in American history. Catherine M. Sedgewick, William Ellory Channing, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Wendell Phillips, John Greenleaf Whittier, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Bronson Alcott and many other leaders of that generation expressed deep interest in the movement and most of them took part in the convention proceedings.

It is interesting to note that among the papers read and addresses given were pleas for freedom of women to attend colleges and universities. to learn trades, to enter into professions and into business where are now taken as a matter of course. Pioneer women in these lines who spoke were Mrs. Sarah Tyndale of Philadelphia, the most prominent business woman of her day; Antoinette L. Brown, a young minister; Dr. Harriet K. Hunt, the first woman prysician in Massachusettss, and Lucy Stone, who helped to open college doors to women.

Eleven states were represented in this first suffrage convention. They were: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and California. Mrs. Paulina Wright Davis was chairman, Wendell Phillips was appointed treasurer and Mrs. Sarah H. Earle, secretary. A central committee, which form is still in evidence in the national organization was appointed on which there were representatives from each state.

William Lloyd Garrison wrote to the convention as follows: "I doubt whether a more important movement has ever been launched touching the destiny of the race than this in regard to the equality of the sexes."

Notwithstanding the inexperience of the women in organization work and conducting meetings, the sessions were managed according to parliamentary law. An explanation of the purposes of the convention was read, and resolutions were passed which stated, 'that women are clearly entitled to the right of suffrage and to be considered eligible to office." The resolution declared that every party that claimed "to represent humanity, civilization and progress was bound to rarify the watchword, 'Equality before the law, without distinction to sex or color.' "

As a result of the first convention, John Stuart Mill was converted to equal suffrage, and many other men and women prominent in that day were deeply impressed by the earnestness and force of the claims of the equal rights convention.

Great Suffrage Parade.

New York. Oct. 22.—When Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, the young society leader of New York and Newport, leads the march up Fifth avenue tomorrow afternoon, one of the biggest suffrage parades ever held will be under way. Mrs. Leonard makes her official debut as a marcher on that occasion. It is expected that 20,000 women will be in line. One division will represent the 26 countries in which the Women's International Alliance is organized.

Mrs. Thomas will carry the standard of the alliance. Gowned in white she will lead the big parade, with Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, founder and president of the alliance just behind her. Then will follow the 26 groups of thirteen each, representing the nations. The standard bearers attached to each group will elevate the national flag of each country, as well as standards that tell the status of the women of that country.

MOTHER DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs", then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs", which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company".—Adv.

BOSTON CORBETT.

The Slayer of J. Wilkes Booth—A Religious Fanatic, in Andersonville Prison.

(By J. M. Swales.)

Those familiar with Civil War history will remember that on the night of April 14, 1865, while attending Ford's theatre in Washington, D. C., President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated by J. Wilkes Booth, son of James Brutus Booth, one of the greatest actors of his day and generation. The son was a rabid secessionist and was the chief organizer among others who conspired to assassinate Lincoln and "avenge the Last Cause". After mortally wounding the president, Booth sprang from the stage and made his escape over into Virginia where he was finally located in a barn. Among those who were bent on his capture was Boston Corbett, a union soldier, whose loyalty to his country and religion bordered on fanaticism. Booth refused to surrender and was shot to death by Corbett. All this happened when the entire nation was passing through the greatest excitement in the history of our republic which had just passed through the greatest war in all the annals of time up to the close of the Civil War. While all this was transpiring I was still in the miry hell of misery and despair at Andersonville from which I emerged a human skeleton on April 17, or four days after Lincoln's name and fame had been sent thundering down the ages for all time. It was in this castle of death that I saw the slayer of Booth and remember him quite well as his actions and personality served to stamp on my memory the fanatic, whose peculiarities and eccentricities would attract one while tens of thousands of others would pass unnoticed. During those awful days in the summer of 1864 when men were dying like flies on the sun baked hillsides of that modern inferno, this man Corbett held religious services and exhorted men to "come to Jesus and escape hell and damnation". During one of his many harangues a man who was captured at Chickamauga and had been a prisoner nearly a year, said he would rather go to the hell Corbett described than remain where he was. It could be no worse and the chances were he might better his condition. A few days later I helped carry that poor, starved mortal to the "dead house", through which passed 15,000 other martyrs who had perished for the flag they had died to save.

Subsequent events concerning the life and history of Corbett prove clearly to my mind that while a prisoner of war he was insane and that was the opinion of many who heard his religious harangues during those far off prison days, while guests of Jeff Davis and his co-conspirators who had attempted to establish a new nation founded in human bondage.

The following article written to the Waverly Journal, by Francis Marion Brewer, proprietor of the Dunlap House, describes Corbett as he knew him along in the late eighties:

Boston Corbett, the slayer of J. Wilkes Booth, emigrated from the New England States about 1870, and located in Cloud county, Kansas, near Concordia. In 1887 when the General Assembly convened at Topeka, Boston Corbett was elected sergeant at arms. He has had a mania for notoriety ever since he killed Booth. He appeared at the county fairs and many a man in Kansas has paid ten cents to see Boston Corbett. One day some of the members of the House had a very warm debate over some important bill. Corbett wanted to show his authority and stepped in with revolver in hand, and ordered Henry Booth, the speaker of the House, to vacate the chair. The reading clerk had to step down also. He swore that he would kill the first man that moved. Every one obeyed, until some of them got the drop on him and he was disarmed and taken forthwith to the court house and adjudged insane. He was kept there until June 1888, when, in a very singular way, he made his escape. He was taken out for a walk with other patients one day and when the attendants were waiting near the building for some of the other wards to come out to join them in the walk, and while their backs were turned, Corbett spied a horse already saddled, and the bridle reins over a post nearby. This was Corbett's only opportunity of escape, and he made good use of it. He was half a mile away before anyone had time to think. There was great excitement in Topeka. The depots were watched and the state house guarded, as Corbett had made threats that he would kill Gov. John A. Martin if he ever got his freedom. But Corbett never stopped for anything like that. He was not heard from for two weeks, when Supt. Eastman received a letter from a friend of Corbett's by the name of Thacher, from Wilson county, Kansas, stating that Corbett had arrived there safe and sound, and that they would take care of him in the future; and to send a man after the horse. Corbett's friends had tried several times to get him released from the asylum on habeas corpus proceedings, but failed. He was a well read man and a very smooth talker. He liked to talk about Abe Lincoln, and well he might, for Lincoln one time reprieved him when he was courtmarshaled to be shot. He never liked to talk about the killing of Booth, nor would he talk about the holding up of the Kansas legislature.

FIND BEDSTEAD ON WHICH GENERAL U. S. GRANT SLEPT

Old Sangamon Railroad Warehouse Being Wrecked at Naples Reveals Many Relics—Building Erected in 1832.

The Hatfield Bros. have wrecked the old Sangamon railroad warehouse. This was built in 1832, when this town had a railroad running from Jacksonville to Naples, says the Naples correspondent. The cars first were drawn by oxen then steam. After steam had taken the place of oxen and mules, the engines were fired by wood as fuel to make steam. On a long pull they found they were going to run short of fuel and they would aim to get to a strip of timber, then all hands went out and they would pick up enough to steam to the next timber. Many old relics were found in the rubbish of this old warehouses, among them the bedstead that General U. S. Grant slept on at the residence of Peter Critzer while he was camping here with his regiment, June 20, 1861. Many things such as machinery and trinkets were found that are things of the past. A lot of sheos that were found that had been overlooked; high heels among them would now put to shame the present style. No sewing all pegged. This old building had a big hall. Thomas Hollowbush would have to remove his stove pipe when he went to dinner or it would get knocked off on account of the low ceiling. The hall was 25 feet wide and 100 feet long. This hall was used for a dance hall. We had no movie pictures those days; only nature itself, and sometimes it was a pretty lively movie. If the late George W. Smith of Jacksonville was living he could relate a pretty live movie, he and Hon. James M. Riggs witnessed in a law suit in the hall at one time.

WILL READ MEDICAL PAPER.

Dr. C. R. Lowe and Dr. Edward J. Strickler, physicians at the Jacksonville State hospital, will go to Elgin Wednesday and Thursday to attend the quarterly meeting of the Illinois State Hospitals Medical association. Dr. Strickler will read a paper on "A Comparison of the Etiologies as Given By the Court of Interrogatories, the Relatives, the Patient and the Hospital Examination." Dr. Lowe's paper is based upon one hundred consecutive admissions to the hospital and brings out some interesting facts. Alcoholism, which according to reports of relatives may be held accountable for fifty-six per cent. of the cases, is found by hospital examination to be responsible for six per cent. only Alcoholism as a contributing cause to insanity, however, exists in a larger number of cases.

PROGRESS IN TRADE CONTINUES OF CONSPICUOUS PROPORTIONS

Bradstreet's Review States Even Greater Gains are Apparently in Store.

New York, Oct. 22.—Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

"Save for a probably temporary setback to retail distribution caused by a spell of warm weather, progress in trade and industry continues of conspicuous proportions, with even greater gains apparently in store. In the larger lines cumulative expansion is the chief characteristic; retail merchants show a stronger propensity to buy ahead; the steel trade goes on making ground; prices on some finished products have ben advanced, partly to keep buying within certain bounds; the long predicted scarcity of railway cars is an actual fact, a paucity of labor exists, payrolls are enlarging; weekly bank clearings are of unparalleled proporitons; demand for money, the supply of which is plethoric at easy rates is increasing exports of wheat and flour for the current week establish a new high record; export trade continues unprecedented; meritorious new enterprises are being launched more readily, real estate long dormant, is reviving and farmers in the south are paying off old debts. Weekly bank clearings $5,221,789,000."

EAST INDIAN IDOLS.

Some That Are Guarded and Saluted by British Troops.

In India a British guard of honor presents arms to a stone tiger every day. The tiger is regarded by the natives as a god who drives away all danger and calamity, and once some soldiers, in a spirit of mischief, overthrew the image from its resting place and sent it rolling into the valley below.

So shocked and scandalized were the natives that a revolt seemed imminent, and Lord Combermere quieted the outraged natives by restoring the image to its pedestal and ordering the regiment to salute it in full view of all. Since that time a British troop has kept watch over the tiger idol day by day.

Another Indian idol which is watched over by the British is the god whose name is Kiak Kiak, equivalent to "Lord of Lords," which is supposed to be asleep for 6,000 years and whose awakening will be the end of all things.

Hence the natives of the city of Pegu, in Burma, are terribly afraid that some one will arouse the god, so the British government, to avert trouble, stationed a sentry there to prevent this catastrophe.

Once a year a strange custom is observed in Cairo. A piece of carpet on which, according to tradition, Mahomet once sat and which is the most famous sacred relic of Islam, is carried through the streets, and the khedive and his troops all receive it in review order and salute it as they pass.

The relic is guarded most carefully at ordinary times, and the officer in charge of it each morning must salute it with his sword raised, while the bugler blows three blasts before it.—Exchange.

SENTRIES FOR CHURCHES.

A Custom Forced by Native Feuds In the Melanesian Islands.

In the Melanesian islands the natives carry on feuds with a more relentless hatred even than the vendettistes of Corsica. In these islands Christianity has been made, at least in outward aspect, the religion of the people.

That it really does mean something to the Melanesian is evidenced by the reply I received from an intelligent old chief when I asked him why he did not become a Christian.

"I'm to be," he said, "when I kill the devil who kill my boy five years ago."

So relentlessly are these feuds carried on that it is the custom for a native of wealth with a grievance against another, but who finds it impossible or inexpedient to kill his enemy and secure his head himself, to hire a professional murderer and pay him upon the delivery of the head.

Often in the years that are just gone indiscriminate killing went on with such savage persistence that even during church service "pot shots" were taken at marked worshipers through the doors and windows.

The situation became so acute in one village that the government was petitioned, and the response was the loan to the missionary of a rifle.

The missionary took the hint and armed one of his natives who stood guard outside the church during services.

And so it became the fashion on many of the islands to add a sentry to the church rolls.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How a Coal Fire Protects Itself.

A curious way in which a fire in the heart of a coal pile keeps itself from being put out is noted in a mining journal. Such fires often start in the interior of large piles of coal owing to heat developed by slow oxidation, which is prevented by the size of the pile from escaping into the air. Such fires are difficult to put out owing to the fact that the burning mass turns the coal around it into coke, which is nearly impervious to water. The pile may thus be thoroughly drenched without putting out the fire, which it never really reaches. The only way to deal with the situation is to drive into the pile a sharpened iron pipe long enough to reach the burning coal and then to couple a hose to the upper end and turn on the water.

A Dreadful Mistake.

Glympe (in railway carriage)—This is a splendid book, a masterpiece. I recommend you to buy it. Gumph—I wonder how it is selling. Glympe—It is selling in thousands. Can't publish it fast enough. I'm the publisher, so I ought to know. Gumph—I'm so glad to hear you say that, because I am the author. Glympe (suddenly collapses)—Well—er—er—that is, it may sell fast. But there are very serious risks." (Swoons away.)—London Mail.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

Mr. I. B. Potter acted as referee at the Beardstown-Carrollton football game played in Beardstown on Saturday. Mr. Potter acted in a similar capacity at the Beardstown-Greenfield game a week ago.

The Reverend Mr. Madden, pastor of the Grace church, will speak at the devotional meeting at Academy Hall Sunday evening.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting in the Jones building on Friday evening. The leader was Miss Velma Dugger.

Mr. Robert White '69 was a visitor in the city Thursday. Mr. White's son, Sumner, wass graduated from the college in the class of 1903.

Miss Elson Barnes was recently appointed by the trustees to take charge of a special coaching course in English grammer. This course is designed for freshmen who need extra training in elementary English.

Miss Beulah Ennis '16 has been appointed student assistant in Latin in Whipple Academy. Miss Ennis will give assistance in Cicero.

Mr Jacob A. Zeller, principal of Whipple Academy, and Professor of Pedadogy, from 1893-01, addressed the students at the chapel exercises Monday morning. The students listened to his address with keen interest. During the years that Prof Zeller was in charge of Whipple the school greatly increased in the number of its students.

The girls of Academy Hall are planning to give a Hallowe'en party on October 30th.

The first shipment of books purchased out of the President's Decennial fund arrived last week. This is a fund established through an appropriation from the trustees and a gift from Mr. Andrew Russell in recognition of the first ten years of service of President Rammelkamp. It amounts to four hundred dollars. The accession of these volumes to the college library will greatly increase the faculties of the department of history and political science. It has been found necessary to shift many of the books in the library to make room for the books that are constantly being added. The increase in the number of students has also necessitated the purchasing of additional tables and chairs for the Library.

The college recently received from Mr. W. D. Doying an interesting old framed photograph. In the center is a picture of Crampton Hall which is surrounded by photographs of the members of the faculty in the days of President Tanner.

The boys of Crampton Hall were invited to the president's house Tuesday after study hours to enjoy a "feed" of doughnuts and cider. After singing some songs, the party dispersed.

The college band is planning to play at the Wesleyan game next Friday.

The Continent for last week, in an article "The Dimming of the Red Lights" by George J. Anderson, contains a cut of George J. Kneeland '91. The writer of the article speaks in high praise of the work of Mr. Kneeland.

A football game between a team represenitng the freshmen and sophomore classes was held on Friday afternoon in order to decide the question of class supremacy. The faculty granted a half holiday for the occasion. The game resulted in a tie score of 6 to 6.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of Harvey Whel Bateman, who passed away one year ago today.

Oh, Dearest Brother since you have passed away,
It seems 'tis not months ago, but only yesterday,
When we speak of your name, our eyes with tears are filled.
Oh, Brother, how we love you. and love cannot forget.
The Lord took you from us, it was His holy will,
And left in our hearts a vacancy which no one else can fill.
But in our saddest moments. one happy thought holds sway,
We will meet again dear brother, and be happy some sweet day.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

President Harker has returned from a special meeting of the Forward Educational Committee, held at Bloomington Oct. 22. Over fifty of the prominent men in both the Central and the Illinois Conferences were present. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and hearty cooperation was assured President Harker in the final effort for completing the endowment.

Mrs. Belle Short Lambert has returned after attending a meeting of the Chicago Society. This was held on Saturday, Oct. 16th.

The Belles Lettres Literary society have installed some new lighting fixtures in their hall. This addition makes quite an improvement in the appearance of the room, and greatly adds to the enjoyment of the members.

Mrs. J. O. Kirkpatrick of Quincy has been visiting her daughter, Miss Myra. Mrs. J. W. Harmel of Pekin has been the guest of her daughter, Miss Alma. Mr. Z. L. Rexroat, of Virginia was a business caller at the college on Friday, also called on his daughters, Misses Lucile and Rachel.

The menu was in the Indian language. After the dinner Miss Johanna Onken, president of the Young Women's Christian association, acted as toastmistress, and introduced Miss Mary Anderson of the faculty, and Misses Mary Harrison and Maude Strubinger, representing the students. All of the talks were interesting and right to the point.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

Glasgow, Scotland.—Mrs. Bradley Martin, the best known and most popular American hostess in Scotland, is at Balmacaan, in Invernessshire, where the is spending the Autumn. The brilliant house parties are missing, and many of her guests are convalescent military officers. Many of the Americans are missing from Scotland this autumn, including the Duchess of Marlborough, Lord and Lady Decies and the Goulds. The Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe May Goelet) were in Scotland for the annual grouse drive over their moors. Their small son, Lord Bowmont, is now two years old. He is being brought up under his mother's watchful eye. The Duke himself requires her care, for his wounds are healing slowly and the service at the front has forced him to resort to crutches.

Washington—It is doubtful if a President ever received a more cordial invitation than that which the California school children are sending to Washington. Mrs. Gaillard Stoney, of San Francisco, heads the delegation which is taking to the President the signatures of 250,000 Californians, asking the President to come to the fair. Mrs. Stoney is accompanied by a delegation of high school girls. The prospect of seeing not only the Chief Executive, but the first lady of the land, is the most talked of matter in California just now. It is believed that the President may make the trip.

Baker, Ore.—Two Baker girls, Grace Carmalt and Susie Norwood, coming into possession of a mining claim in Owl Mountain, in Eastern Oregon, have set about to work it themselves, from the digging and crushing of ore to the reclamation of the gold it contains. They have succeeded so far, and are in high hopes that a golden harvest is within their grasp. The girls are no tenderfeet, for their girlhood days were spent watching their fathers, who were partners, at work in their mine on the mountain side. The girls inherited the claim that was never worked, and in true prospector spirit, took a chance out on the side of the mountain. When they struck pay dirt and found indications of a vein of gold, they had a mill built, and they hired men to do the hard work. But it is their own mine, and they are the "bosses", and all love-sick men can keep away until less strenuous days.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Oklahoma believes in practical demonstration of the menace of flies, and is anxious for the betterment of rural conditions. Consequently, Mrs. Dixie Bolton Tucker, who is a graduate physician, holds the unique position of supervisor of rural hygiene and sanitation in this state. She travels from town to town, delivering strong convincing lectures, illustrated by charts and pictures. She goes right into homes and shosws the women folks the dangers of fly bites to helpless children.

Christiania, Norway.—The next move for the privileges of women in Norway is to open up the pulpits to them. This month for the first time women voted in the general elections. They have held the right to vote in the local elections since 1907. They have many privileges and rights not enjoyed by American women, but the preaching of the gospel is not among them.

New York—Miss Anne Morgan has strong opinions in the matter of women's dress. She is planning to get in touch this winter with makers of women's clothes and consult with them. Miss Morgan declares it is not her intention to foist her opinions upon any one, but she thinks that the style of dress now worn by the many self-supporting women misrepresents them and givess a wrong idea of their character. Many of them give a wrong impressions, she says, and they subject themselves not only to criticism but to insults. Girls want the frivolous gowns when they see them on others, is her belief, and they innocently doll themselves up with paint and powder. All these girls need, says Miss Morgan, is to see the best there is in dress and let them follow their own tastes.

London—The "most dangerous woman in Europe", Madame Sorgue, is now one of the most highly praised. Because she formented so many strikes, an English police official classed her as "the most dangerous". She has been doing Red Cross work at the front, and is now lecturing in England for unity. She is the daughter of a French philosopher and the grand-daughter of a Russian general. She has been in jail many times and at one time was forbidden to land in England.

WASTE OF APPLES.

A gentleman was remarking yesterday on the waste of apples and said there wasn't much encouragement to make cider vinegar as a private individual wouldn't be permitted to sell it under the pure food law. In that case a great many apples in the country will rot on the ground.

MEDICAL JOURNAL

Advises Doctors to Prescribe Vinol and Give Reasons Why.

"Doctor: You have many patients under your care at this season of the year especially, whom you may consider are in need of the nutritious, healing properties of cod liver oil, many people cannot digest or assimilate the ordinary cod liver oil preparations on account of their digestive disturbances.

It is for this reason we want to respectfully call your attention to Vinol—a cod liver preparation containing Cod Liver Peptone made from fresh cod livers and cod liver oil, (all oil eliminated), together with Iron Peptonate, Beef Peptone, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, and pure Native Wine.

Vinol is non-secret and in our opinion, superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, because while it contains all the medicinal value they do, unlike them Vinol is deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach.

We feel that medical practitioners who once prescribe Vinol will do so continuously, as under its treatment patients gain strength and put on flesh almost from the start."

From the Canadian Journal of Medicine and Surgery.

PEOPLE SLOWLY POISON SYSTEMS

"Organs Become Clogged and Putrefactive Germs Set in", Says "Tanlac Man."

MANY ARE AFFECTED.

Higher medical authorities assert that auto-intoxication is the foundation of most ailments and diseases. "This condition", says W. B. McPherson, "Tanlac Man" for Illinois, "is nothing more or less than the slow, self-poisoning of vital organs—produced by the excessive mental and physical strain we are forced to endure, which renders the organs lame and permits toxins—actual poisons—to be generated within one's own body.

"Sometimes the trouble starts in the kidneys and sometimes it starts in the stomach or elsewhere. But in any case the blame lies with the faulty methods of living, and it is the more important organs that suffer the final damage. And when they falter or fail in their duties, the body fills up with poisons and the victim finally yields to their baneful effect. Bright's disease, stomach and intestinal troubles, catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, in fact, may be called auto-intoxication, or self-poisoning.

"A tired, dragging feeling of the body, or sluggish mind and dull memory, intense nervousness, headaches, stomach and bowel troubles, poor circulation, imperfect digestion, constipation and despondency, are common symptoms of auto-poisoning, and nine out of every ten people in the average American city like Jacksonville isl ikely to be so affected."

In this connection, Col. Joseph Coyne, of Louisville, Ky., one of the most prominent general contractors in the United States, says:

"A condition of my kidneys has annoyed me for a number of years. This condition was manifested mostly by a weakness in that region and occasional pain of a most disagreeable nature. I would often place my hand on my side in an effort to transmit warmth to the spot and thereby alleviate some of the distress.

"In addition to that trouble, I suffered periodically from rheumatism, the condition affecting various parts of my body. I experienced difficulty in walking and using my hands with the right freedam. I suffered from a pain in the ball of my foot for fully ten years. The pain is now gone.

"My kidneys are greatly improved and my pain has virtually disappeared. My appetite and sleep are better. I feel vigorous and healthy. I trace the change to the use of Tanlac only. The medicine is all right. I recommend and commend it."

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

LOWEST PRICES OF THE WEEK ARE TOUCHED IN WHEAT MARKET

Prices Are 1¾ to 2⅝ Cents Net Lower—Corn Finally Gives Way With Wheat.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Thousands of car loads of wheat rushing to market in the northwest had an unmistakable bearing effect today on speculators here. As a result, prices although steady at the close were 1¾@1⅞c to 2⅝c net lower; with December at 97⅝c and May at $1.00½.

Corn showed a setback of ½c to 1¼c.

Oats back ⅛@¼c to ⅜c.

In provisions the outcome varied from 7½@10c decline to a rise of 5c.

Lowest prices of the week were touched in the wheat pit just before the end of the session. Extreme declines as compared with the high point reached on Oct. 14, ranged about 10½ to 12c a bushel.

Corn finally gave way with wheat and under the influence of enlarged country offerings.

At first however, the market tended to advance owing to hope of sales for export.

Much the same conditions ruled in the oats trade as in corn. One of the leading elevator companies was conspicuous on the selling side.

Provisions manifested no significant change but rather favored buyers toward the close. The volume of business was light especially in the options prior to January.

TRADING DURING SHORT STOCK SSESION IS ACTIVE BUT CONFESSED

Several New High Records Are Made, Mainly in Automobile Shares and Baldwin Locomotive.

New York, Oct. 23.—Trading was active but confused during today's two hour session of the stock market in which several new high records were made, mainly in Automobile shares and Baldwin Locomotive.

The latter rose 5½ to 155½ in the first hour but dropped 7 points later on unofficial denial that the company was to figure in a merger with the Midvale Steel company.

Studebaker and Continental Can also manifested reactionary tendencies, the former losing 7 points at 183 while Can yielded over 5 to 105 on the statement that it had failed to close a large war contract long in negotiation. General Electric, Willys-Overland and Pullman were among the other heavy specialties while National enameling and stamping was in sudden demand at an advance of four points to 33¾.

Uited States Steel held around yesterday's closing price but denoted some pressure in the final dealings, when the entire list developed heaviness in connection with the weakness in foreign exchange.

Total sales amouted to 520,000 shares, Studebaker, United States Steel and Baldwin Locomotive, contributing a large part of the whole.

In place of the large cash gain which local banks were expected to disclose in the week's shifting of money, the bank statement showed no appreciable change in this item but actual loans expanded by over $46,000,000 and deposits by $42,600,000 with an increase of $4,536,000 in excess reserves.

SEES NEED FOR NEW LEADERSHIP IN WORLD GOVERNMENTS

President of Insurance Company Made Notable Address on Lessons of the Great War.

At the opening session of the safety first federation in Detroit recently Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Co., made a notable address giving expression to pronounced views on international questions. He declared that the inhumanity of the great war has made plain the need for a new system of government in the old world and he maintained that events are proving the failure of the government heads. The whole of the address was an appeal for "reforms" so widespread and important that few people have even dreamed of the possibilities of such changes.

Mr. Kingsley said: "No one can study world problems to any extent without awakening to the existence of a very disagreeable truth. We have assumed, in our busy, peaceful lives, that savagery was a long way behind us. We would probably say, if asked, that it disappeared with the elimination of this continent of the red men. We have tried to soften the asperities of this lawless world through what is known as international law. We suddenly awoke in August, 1914, to find not only that the land was lawless but that it was the natural habitat of revolution and of utter anarchy.

"Modern business and the growth of human sympathy is the new wine which the people of the United States and the people of the great European countries have been and are now pouring into the old bottles of national sovereignty, with the usual results. The anarchy of this overzone cannot be destroyed by any half-way measures. Nor can we ignore it. We must deal with it. Nothing less than revolution in the existing international order will serve.

"Can the people of the United States contemplate with any patience the signing of the usual forms of peace when this war ends? We all know too well what that will mean. We can even now see the contestants limping off, each to its own bit of earth, immediately to begin preparation for the next greater slaughter. Haven't we had enough of slaughter? Haven't we had enough of a program which means periodical human butchery and can never mean anything else?

"We may as well face the truth; our leaders have failed. They have led the world to a shambles. But the people have not failed. Their heroism is today as unselfish and as splendid as the heroism of Thermopylae. The fiber of the common man has not deteriorated. It shines, resplendent in France, in Belgium, in Germany, in Austria, in Russia, and in the Orient. In the grip of national sovereignty the people are apparently helpless. As the world is now led, men must periodically go out to slaughter their brothers with whom they have no quarrel. Isn't it time for a new leadership?

"I have said that no nation is now self-sufficient. I do not say that nationality has not served a high purpose, but the bloody fields of Europe show conclusively that whatever nationality may have achieved in the past, it cannot now render to humanity any service which for a moment justifies the hideous human sacrifice, which, Moloch-like, it exacts.

"This war is humanity's greatest tragedy, but it will not have been suffered in vain if its opportunity is fairly grasped. The war's close will be that 'tide in the affairs of men' which must be 'taken at the flood', if international anarchy is to be eliminated, through the formation of a Federation which shall place humanity above nationality. This high position we have taken once. Indeed we are what we are because we took that position. We have now a like and a larger opportunity and ought to take it again."

IS HALE AT 86.

Aunt Susanne Henderson of Literberry came to the city yesterday with her daughter, Mrs. Liter. Although the good lady is 86 years old and had a miraculous escape in the cyclone of '83 she is yet wonderfully hale and hearty and able to live alone in spite of her children's protests and do her work all right.

S. S. S. Greatest Blood Remedy Gives Results When Others Fail

Nature's Remedy For Blood Troubles.

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made "S. S. S. for the Blood" a household saying. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy natural with health; your complexion becomes pale and sallow; your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, all are deep-seated blood disorders, and for their treatment nothing equals S. S. S. Get S. S. S. at any drug store. If yours is a peculiar case write S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

NYLO CHOCOLATES

Take a NYLO Chocolate and hold it on your hand . See how quickly it melts. That is because it contains all the natural rich cacao butter.

Some candies are made of inferior chocolate from which the wholesome cacao butter has been pressed—and sold at a profit. Test one of them; it will not melt so readily as a NYLO, because it contains less of the cacao butter and more of the hard residue of the cacao beans. NYLO Chocolates contain all the native richness and goodness of the ingredients.

Break a NYLO Chocolate in two. Notice the dark color and the fine grain . That's because only a little sugar has been used in the chocolate. Inferior grades use lots of sugar, because it is cheaper than chocolate. When you break them, they show a coarse grain.

Most important of all, apply the test of Taste. Try any other chocolates in comparison with NYLOS. No other can give the same exquisite delicacy, the same honied sweetness, the sam edelightful freshness and delicious flavor.

If you will try one box, you are sure to become a regular NYLO customer.

NEW REFRIGERATING METHOD USED IN COLD STORAGE PLANT AT I.S.D.

Expansion of Carbonic Acid Gas is Cooling Agent—Process Not Hitherto Used on Large Scale Superseding Ammonia.

Machinery at the Illinois School for the Blind cold storage plant will be started for the first time this week, marking the installation of a convenience of which the institution has long been in need. The expansion of carbon dioxide will be the refrigerating agent and this plant will be the first in Jacksonville to make use of a method which is tending to supplant the ammonia process of cooling.

The building is of brick and concrete and the storage rooms are enclosed by a cork wall four inches thick. The outside dimensions of the building are 22 feet, 8 inches by 32 feet, 4 inches, and the structure contains two stories with a commodious basement beneath. There are three cold storage rooms on the first floor.

Groceries and supplies which do not require a lowered temperature will be stored on the second floor and in the basement, the space not needed by the engine and expansion apparatus will be utilized for a vegetable cellar. The plant will be run by a two-ton, 3-phase, 5-horse power motor and the piping for the re-cooling of the condensed gas is of double strength. Work on the building was begun in the early summer and Supt. H. C. Montgomery states the engine will be operated for practice this week and the plant will be in use within a short time thereafter. The amount of state appropriation for the plant was $65,000. Both the Jacksonville State hospital and the Illinois School for the Deaf have had cold storage plants for considerable time, operated by the ammonia process. J. W. Miller, engineer at the school for the blind, will have charge of the new plant's operation.

COLUMBIA MAN WILL SPEAK ON STANDARDIZING RURAL SCHOOLS

The standardization of schools in the rural districts will be the theme of Dr. Thomas D. Wood of Columbia university, who will speak at David Prince school Monday evening. Dr. Wood is in Illinois attending the state charities conference and will come to Jacksonville under auspices of the Morgan County Medical society and the Morgan County Federation of Woman's clubs.

Dr. Wood is professor of physical education in Teachers' College of Columbia university and for the discussion of this important theme is especially qualified. Though little has been done here along this line beginnings have been made by County Superintenednt Vasconcellos, collaborating with the women of the rural communities, and indications are that the county will soon be better prepared for the law for rural school standardization going into effect in 1917.

MORTUARY

Dobson.

Mrs. Frank C. Taylor of 852 East State street has received word of the death of her twin sister, Mrs. Dorothea Elizabeth Dobson at a hospital in Hoquaim, Wash. She had been confined to the hospital for the past year. Mrs. Dobson spent a portion of the summer of 1911 with her sister in this city and will be kindly remembered by many who met her during that visit.

Rettie Cordes was born in Neese, northern Germany and was the daughter of Henry and Cecelia Luehken Cordes. In company with her twin sister she came to this country in 1853 . They first lived in Philadelphia but after a year went to Harrisburg to join their parents who had recently come from Germany. In 1861 Miss Cordes was united in marriage to Charles E. Dobson of Philadelphia. Mr. Dobson at the time was a member of a Pennsylvania regiment in the United States army and afterward was detailed for duty on a training ship in the navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobson went to Chicago in 1884 and made that city their home for five years when they went to Idaho and took up a land claim near Boise. Five years ago they removed to Hoquaim, Wash., where Mr. Dobson died. The widow then moved to Westport where she purchased property and where she resided until a year ago when her illness compelled her to go to the hospital. Two children preceded her in death.

Mrs. Dobson was a member of the Lutheran church and of the Woman's Relief Corps. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Hettie C. Taylor, two nieces, Mrs. Anine Cordes Johnson and Mrs. L. H. STRIKING GARMENT WORKERS HOLD SECOND PARADE IN CHICAGO

Several Thousand Women and Girls March—"Mother" Jones Rides in a Carriage at the Head of the Parade.

Chicago, Oct. 23—Downtown Chicago echoed today to the blare of bands and the cheers of onlookers as the second parade of the striking garment workers marched through the streets. This time only women and girls marched but they made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in number although there were several thousand in the line.

Mrs. Mary (Mother) Jones rode in a carriage at the head of the parade.

Before the parade started some of the marchers had told their stories of working conditions in their former places of employment to the aldermanic commitee which is investigating the strike. Six men entered the home of Mrs. Lillian Wax, wife of a garment worker who refused to join the strike, today and after beating her and threatening her thirteen year old daughter, smashed furniture and dishes, broke windows and left the home virtually in ruin. Neighbors heard the excitement and pursued he men, but they escaped.

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE HAD RECORD CROWD SATURDAY

Good Roads and Alfalfa Were Principal Themes Discussed—Great Interest in Exhibits.

The second day of the Franklin farmers' institute attracted a very large crowd and the number of people there was almost equal to the largest attendance during the home coming last year. In the morning the visitors occupied the time visiting the splendid exhibit in Olinger's hall and in the afternoon the program took place in the Christian church. Lewis Roberts, president of the Franklin institute, presided, and the program opened with music by the orchestra. Then Miss Olive L. Burnett sang very effectively two solos, "The Mission of the Rose" and "Where the Flag is Full of Stars". The first address was by S. E. Bradt, a member of the Illinois highway commission, whose theme was "Good Roads".

Mr. Bradt gave some interesting facts indicating the development of the good roads movement in recent years, especially as related to Illinois. He showed that the passage of the Tice good roads law was a distinct advancement and that while the law may need some changes, that in the main it furnishes a great vehicle for bettering the highways of the state. The speaker explained how county road officers can get the best results by entering into hearty co-operation with the state. Some facts were given also to show how closely the good roads question is related to general advancement and prosperity. Road conditions have a decided effect on the cost of marketing grain and on this and other facts of like import the speaker laid particular stress. The law was explained with reference to the expenditure of public funds for oiled highways and at the conclusion of the address an opportunity was given for questions and answers, and the discussion was of a very helpful character.

Miss Grace A. Roberts gave a reading which was well received and then Arthur M. Masters gave an address on alfalfa. He is especially well fitted to talk on this theme as he has devoted so much attention to the growing of this crop during recent years. Although Mr. Masters has grown sweet clover extensively the past year, he has by no means lost faith in alfalfa and considers it as practically essential in the matter of keeping up soil fertility and providing the proper rotation of crops. Mr. Masters accords in his views with those scientists who believe that the question of maintaining soil fertility is in providing lime stone and phosphate and in growing legume crops.

Mr. Masters has fields of alfalfa large and small growing on his various farms, and in his address yesterday he pointed out that the right results can only be obtained if the rules are followed and the soil inoculated and lime and phosphate applied. He admitted the difficulty of handling a crop which makes four or five cuttings a year if the season proves rainy, but insisted that the benefits accruing were such as to justify any extra labor necessary. In answer to questions he explained something about the system followed on the Masters farm in cutting, curing and housing the alfalfa crop.

The institute this year was, in point of attendance at least, the most successful yet held and as a result, the commercial association of Franklin has announced that the institute has now certainly become an annual event.
